

BLOCK PARTY

Sculptural beauty for everyday life

PHOTOGRAPHY: MATTHEW DONALDSON INTERIORS: OLLY MASON WRITER: ALICE MORBY

Hunky eye candy with chiselled features has been catching our attention lately. Despite its monolithic appearance and blocky silhouette, Yabu Pushelberg's 'Surf' sofa for Molteni & C is a deceptively comfortable spot to cosy up on. Equally monumental is Nendo's 'Wedge' table for Minotti, with sculpted legs seen through a smoky glass top, teamed here with BIC's 'Totem' shelf for Driade and Gianfranco Ferré Home's 'Fitzroy' console, crafted from slabs of travertine. On a slightly smaller scale, we love Studio Truly Truly's lamp for Marcin Rusak Studio, which features two stacked metal blocks, and A Space Studio's side table, carved from volcanic tuff. Shedding light on the whole scene is Roll & Hill's 'Coax' pendant, which is contrastingly weightless in its appearance. ✱
